

President's Message—Kurt Steidle

Please Don't Tell Me It's July Already...

It feels like I just wrote the June message, well in way it was, as I am writing this a bit earlier than usual. Regardless, we are half-way through the year but there are still plenty of things happening that you can participate. Check out the activities list in the newsletter (I'll update the website in the first week of July) and you will find there are quite a few remaining activities for the rest of the year.

As I mentioned at the June General Meeting, our club took the top award for most cars at Perry County Corvette Club's Spring Register show on June 8th and brought home $150 for that effort. That same day, LCCC's Brian Gormont took home the Best of Show (Corvette) Award at the annual LCBC show. Brian followed that with a class win the following weekend at our Corvettes at Stauffer's of Kissel Hill show. It was a close vote but Brian prevailed. Congratulations Brian! The club also had our second autocross for the season and while the attendance was lower than expected, we had several new participants turn out for their first AX. Regardless of the light attendance, the club earned over $1,100.

Of course, the highlight of the month was our Corvettes at Stauffer's of Kissel Hill show. We could not have had a better day and we had a nice turnout to enjoy the Corvettes and lobster at Stauffer's "Under the Tent." Thank you to all members who helped at this show and the autocross in the previous week. Thank you Ken Unger and Troy Howry for co-chairing this year's show.

While giving thanks, a big thank you to Rick Evans and Scott Breneman for replacing the awning on our 20-year-old trailer. It was long overdue and now works much better. We just need more members to be 'flight-rated' on how to roll it back up. Sunday after the Stauffer's show it had many of us looking like the Three Stooges. Rick, your attendance is now mandatory at all trailer use events. (just kidding, we'll get better). Mentioned at the June meeting, new invitation/introduction cards are being printed. The content of the former cards needed to be updated and we were running out. The previous order was made when Tom Henman was Membership Officer so it shows how long those lasted.

Finally, the Raffle Car is in and has been delivered to Carlisle ready for the GM Nationals weekend. Hopefully that show will be more productive than last year but at least we have the actual car to show. Again, Raffle Car tickets are now available and we have less than two months to go until the winner is announced at Corvettes at Carlisle on Saturday, August 24th. This activity has become one of several key events for the club. Please support your club by buying a ticket and selling a ticket or multiple tickets. As I said last month, this project provides significant support for our club charity and brings the club positive recognition. Contact Tony or Lisa DeFelice for tickets. As a reminder, Mary Anne Lewandowski will review our club's Facebook platform at the July meeting. Be sure to attend so you get up to speed on this club information portal. Thank you to Cody for his presentation regarding Instagram at the June meeting. Let's start using these platforms and start posting photos and get the word out about our club. Enjoy the summer!

Christmas Angels

It's time to start gathering those random items that can be put together to make additional baskets for our raffle. That one thing that you don't need or want may go really well with an item that someone else is donating. Shop your house or check out your neighborhood garage sale. I'm sure you can find something special to donate. Just remember that we want new or like new items. Plan to bring your random items to the July or August meeting, but hold off on bringing completed theme baskets until the August meeting. We had a lot of nice things donated last year, let's do it again this year.

We Both Love this Car

I've always been a GM fan; loved Chevelles, Camaros, Firebirds, GTOs, etc. I remember seeing a C3 at Rehoboth Beach and making the comment, "someday I'm going to own a Vette".

I built my own 1965 Chevelle SS 327 just for drag racing. I wanted to get into it more, but Deb thought it was a waste of money. So I sold the 1965 and 1969 Chevelles.

As time went by we bought a farm where we raised tobacco, wheat, etc. We built on a hog house and we both had full time jobs; I also was in the Army National Guard.

Autotrader was big at the time and looking through an issue I saw a C3 for sale in Mount Joy. I went to drive it but I didn't like it. I then saw a 1979 L82 for sale in Ephrata. I called the number, went to drive it and bought it. That was in 2005.

After some time, we went to a Corvette Show at Long's Park. On the way there, we saw a beautiful C5 at Jackson's. We stopped by on the way back and Deb said she really liked it. So we bought that one in 2013; it was a 2001 C5.

We never really thought about joining a Corvette Club but Jim Gingrich would keep telling me to come to a meeting. I decided to give it a try and I went to my first meeting. I was so impressed I decided to join. I told Deb that she should come because I think she would enjoy the people there.

So in the end, we both enjoy the club and what it does.

In July 2021, we traded both Vettes in on our 2014 C7; we both love this car!!

2024 Activities— One Lap of America

A Quick Recap of my One Lap of America

Our 2024 One Lap of America is complete and in the books. I had a tremendous start to the week on Saturday in the Wet Skid Pad Competition, finishing 7th overall out of 77 competitors, in that event. The really neat thing is that I was the 2nd fastest American Brand car being beat by a 2020 Tesla Plaid all wheel drive, since the other top 5 were all Import cars with the first place being a British, Lotus supercar and 4 German cars. After the Wet Skid Pad we went 697 miles west to Hastings Motorsports Park in Hastings Nebraska. After the two events at Hastings we left about 3pm to head for High Plains Raceway near Denver Colorado to compete the next day.

At each Road Course Track we do a morning and an afternoon event and when complete, usually by 2:30 or 3:00 pm we then head to the hotel near the next track. After completing the event at High Plains we then headed to the new Hedge Hollow Road Course just south of Kansas City, Missouri, and for most of the trip we kept hearing Tornado warnings on the radio, but fortunately we did not come in contact.

After the events at Hedge Hollow, we then headed 621 miles to the NCM (National Corvette Museum) track in Bowling Green, Kentucky. At lunch time we stopped over at the Museum and I took a picture of the LCCC brick near the entrance. After finishing up at NCM we only had 519 miles to go to Pittsburg International Race Complex (Pitt Race), where Scott Breneman, Rick Evans and Nick Young came out to see us run. After Pitt Race we were supposed to go a short distance into Ohio to do two Drag events late that afternoon, but it was pouring down rain and they had to cancel the Drags. We then headed a little over 400 miles west again to Putnam Park Raceway a little southwest of Indianapolis. After the two events on Friday at Putnam we then headed only 187 miles north to South Bend and for our last event of the week on Saturday. The last event was the Dry Skid Pad Competition and after that the Awards Banquet Luncheon.

Four of our transit drives had some major rainfalls. My transit home was just over 600 miles and including my miles from home to South Bend & to home after the finish plus the event transits and miles on the tracks I totaled 5,041 miles in just a little over a week.

Joe Yacobenas, a former LCCC member, was my Transit Driver this year. Much of our diet for the week was some of the finest foods available at fast food restaurants and Gas Stations :-). My biggest success of the year was raising over $5000 dollars for the Pa. Breast Cancer Coalition and now over $50,000 over the years. A BIG Thank You to the members of the Lancaster County Corvette Club for their generous help in my fundraising effort.

2024 Activities—Indianapolis 500

Bucket List Item Checked – Kurt Steidle

Visit to the Indianapolis 500

Joanie and I completed a bucket list adventure thanks to Mary Anne Lewandowski's offer to sell her tickets to the 2024 Indianapolis 500. It was not until a few weeks after the meeting where Mary Anne announced they were for sale that Joanie said, 'we should do this.'

With tickets in hand, the rush was on to reserve a hotel and schedule in other activities that wrap around the actual race. Mary Anne offered much needed and useful advice for which we are extremely thankful. Indianapolis turned out to be a very nice city and we decided to stay in the heart of downtown to be a block walk away from the Festival Parade route. We learned during the reservation gathering process that the parade is ranked among notables such as Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York and Pasadena's Tournament of Roses Parade. This year's parade drew 200,000 spectators.

The parade is held on Saturday, the day before the race, so we sandwiched it with the race on Sunday and the quaintly named "Carb Day" of Friday. Carb Day is a throwback term for the day that teams have their last chance to adjust their carburetors before the start of the race. Since carburetors have not been used in decades, the name stays because tradition at Indy is everything. Friday is now set aside for last minute testing, a pit-crew competition and a huge infield party that includes a concert at the "Snake-Pit." We got tickets for "Carb Day" so we could check out the Indianapolis Motor Speedway (IMS) and get a feel of where we were going. It was very helpful.

After the practice session, we walked into the infield and strolled among the sponsor displays and various activities that included some games and a small track for young children. The concert was at the far end of the infield (turn three) and considering we were not looking to go shoulder to shoulder in a very large, concentrated crowd, we passed on that despite George Thorogood and the (Delaware) Destroyers playing. Did I mention that the walk itself would be substantial? They do have shuttles running which is good since the track is so big, it includes four holes of the Brickyard Crossing golf course (home to multiple PGA and LPGA events). While in the infield, we were able to hear the three Team Penske drivers answer questions at the Chevrolet display. On the stand were pole winner Scott McLaughlin, previous winner Will Power and Josef Newgarden, the 2023 winner who also ended up winning this year's race. The three qualified on the front row, only the second time team members had done so. They seemed very relaxed and had a good time joking around with each other.

On Saturday, we had a relaxing start as we only had to walk a block to our seats in a grandstand to watch the parade. We got to meet several locals who were very welcoming and easy to have a conversation with. The parade was quite long with floats, balloons, bands and a fleet of Chevrolet trucks and cars that carried all 33 racers plus past winners and notables past us.

On Sunday, we took Mary Anne's advice and got an early start as we would soon join the largest crowd of people you could imagine. Getting there early gives you time to casually walk to your seats, get something to eat and watch the pre-race ceremonies that includes the Purdue University marching band, among others. Several racing luminaries including Mario Andretti, Johnny Rutherford and Jimmie Johnson, among others, took laps in vintage cars from Indy's past. Johnson took the 1914 race-winning Delage around the track but had to stop several times to get it restarted. Considering the race winning average speed for that car in 1914 was 82+ mph versus Newgarden's 2024 average winning speed of 167.763 mph (his qualifying speed was 226+ mph for a third place starting position). If I were going into turn one at full song, I'd feel much safer in the 2024 car versus the 1914 car even if that car would be going much, much slower.

An expected storm rolled in around noontime and with a lightening warning, spectators were advised to take cover. We gathered with others under the concrete grandstands and waited it out. As the storms began to break and a strong need to sit down came over us, we went back to our seats and put on our rain ponchos. Four hours later, the race started.

Most or many of you are aware of the history and spectacle that is the Indianapolis 500. It does not disappoint. The sheer speed as the cars go by is incredible. We had hearing protection and made good use of it. Our seats were great, on the front stretch just down from the start/finish line and the pagoda. We could see from turn four to turn one without a problem. Monitors were placed above our covered seats so spectators could view the live television feed showing what was going on from turn one through the short chute to turn two, down the backstretch to turn three, though the short chute to turn four and back onto the front straight.

After about ten hours (including the four-hour rain delay) of walking, standing and sitting, the bones and joints started to complain and with 40-some laps to go, we started making our way to the gates. This was not a problem as they had huge monitors on the backside of the grandstands so we could continue to watch what was going on. At the end, my guy (Newgarden) won in an exciting back and forth finish and The Captain (Roger Penske) had another win – all was right with the world in my view.

The main take-away from this fast-paced weekend was that of all the tracks and venues Joanie and I have been to, IMS is at the top of the list. First-class in every respect – well maintained, clean, comfortable and friendly. I know the city put in a monumental effort to put on their best community face since this is an international event but they (along with all the surrounding communities) did a fantastic job. It was a masterclass on logistics. How you move 345,000 fans around without significant problems is just remarkable, much less put on a world class race. It just goes to show what people can do when they work together.

We had a great time as newbies to the track, enjoyed some great evenings at great restaurants and overall came away with a very positive image of Indianapolis.

Rick Evans: Expert Driver or “The Annihilator”

My good friends, I have kept my mouth shut for far too long! I can no longer hold back this information. The things I have seen have forced me to expose the truth. I do this at great personal risk to myself and my family; the coverup is so pervasive that not even the Deep State can make it go away.

But due to my character and dedication to truth, justice, and the American way, I am driven to take this risk. What am I talking about you ask, well it’s our very own Rick Evans—or is that really his name?? I will present the evidence, you decide...

This all started with a simple and seemingly humorous happenstance the morning of our last Autocross. Rick (or whatever his name is) arrived a bit disheveled and we asked what happened. He said he had a bit of an incident with his car but he was fine. Here’s the proof...

As the story goes, the e-brake wasn’t set and the car drifted down the hill; or did it? After we had a good chuckle at this unfortunate event knowing Rick was not hurt, I started asking questions. Was it the e-brake??

A confidential information, Bcott Sreneman (I’ve changed his name to protect his identity), told me there was some talk about an exploded colostomy bag. Another informant, who only goes by KS, told me that someone shouted “Bottoms Up” and Rick took it literally. E-brake failure, I think not!!

So I dug a little deeper knowing that this C5 had “blown engine” and Rick’s C6 mysteriously wrecked. When I looked back in history at other momentous disasters, I started finding interesting information.

Let’s take a look at the evidence:

1. The recent John Force Crash. Here’s the picture you see on the news. But look closer, here is the real picture—it was Rick!!!

Rick Evans: Expert Driver or "The Annihilator"

2. The space shuttle disaster, look who was really driving:

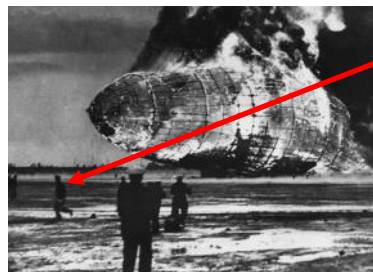

3. The Titanic—Guess who was supposed to be driving rather than making time with a pretty woman...yep, you guessed it!

4. The Hindenburg—Look who is running away from the crash—the pilot—Rick Evans!! Oh the humanity!!!

So, next time Rick asks you get in the passenger seat, think about this accurate and unaltered historical record. You decide...

2024 Activities—Raffle Car and GM Nationals

This year the GM Nationals at the Carlisle Fairgrounds was a good backdrop for the sale of the Raffle Car Tickets. While not as productive as past years, we were able to beat our sales from last year with a total of 77 tickets sold. Many thanks to Clyde, Jim, Jan, Rick, Ed, Jesse, Joe, and Barb for coming out to brave the sweltering heat.

As of this writing, our total collected tickets sit at 207. We need to ramp up the sales and get your ticket in to Lisa and me. As of July 1, we have less than 2 months left to get the tickets sold!!

As always, if you need additional tickets or want to arrange to hand in your sold tickets, please contact us via e-mail or phone. Tony (afdefelice@comcast.net/717-324-6962); Lisa (lisadf80@comcast.net/717-951-8706).
